Happy Fall, OSU Agriculture Family! I'm pleased to share with you another New Frontiers Construction Update.

Since the last update in September, construction crews have laid gravel, recycled from the parking lot concrete that was removed, on top of the many truckloads of fill dumped on the building site. On two different occasions, a team from OSU walked the site to view the progress and discuss the next phase of construction. The consensus from both groups was: You don't realize how big the area is until you are standing in the middle of the construction site with a 360-degree view.

Groundwork and utility work will continue throughout the remainder of the year in preparation for the building pad and foundation. In addition, the 4-H building is being prepped for demolition in December. This location will serve as the staging site for the New Frontiers building materials. We look forward to proceeding to the next bidding phase in early 2022 and continue the progress on our new home for OSU Agriculture.

Together, we are embarking on New Frontiers!

Giving Tuesday is a global day of giving and provides a moment to pause, be grateful and support causes you care about. On Nov. 30, we are challenging individuals to make a gift to New Frontiers and help us reach 500 donors by the end of that day. Help us promote the New Frontiers challenge on Giving Tuesday and encourage people to:

 GO: Visit OSUgiving.com/New-Frontiers and click the GIVE button.

 GIVE: Make a gift to support #AgNewFrontiers.
