NEW FRONTIERS AGRICULTURAL HALL

NEW
FRONTIERSADVANCING OUR CLAIM ON INNOVATIVE RESEARCH, TEACHING & EXTENSION

The new home for OSU Agriculture.

Hello, OSU Agriculture Family, and welcome to the first New Frontiers Construction Update!

A lot has happened since the groundbreaking for our new state-of-the-art teaching, research and Extension facility in April. Construction began in May with the removal of the parking lot, followed by the demolition of Agriculture North, to make room for the footprint of the New Frontiers Agricultural Hall. Groundwork will continue the next few months in preparation for the building pad and foundation.

Considering the current volatility and instability of the construction market, we take pride in being prudent stewards when making decisions regarding the next phase of the bidding process. Meanwhile, we are excited for the progress on our new home and how this facility will change and modernize OSU Agriculture.

Together, we are embarking on New Frontiers!
